NEWBURY

Historical Sketch of Trier, Germany, Where Local Boys are Stationed.

In a private letter from Lieut. Harold Melendy, a Newbury boy, he gives an interesting historical sketch of the city of Trier, Germany, where he and Corp. Edgar Henderson and Lieut. Juten Longwower, (Newbury high school boys) are located.

"The city of Trier (now called Treves) is the oldest city in Germany, and there is some interesting history connected with it, from the time when Julius Caesar conquered it in 56 B. C., to the time when the 'holy coat,' the seamless coat of Christ, was last borne in a procession through the streets in 1691 and exhibited to the vast crowds of devoted pilgrims who came to worship there. It was the city of Treveria, and so named Trier. It grew through the centuries from a town to a colony and from a colony to a capital, and finally in the fourth century was frequently the residence of the Roman emperors.

"Constantine held a splendid celebration here in 306 by having several thousand slaves torn to pieces by wild beasts in the amphitheatre. The amphitheatre, which can still be seen on the hillside among the vineyards, was frequently the scene of similar amusements provided for the people.

"The Porta Nigra and its towers of defiance was once the fortified gate of the Roman city, its huge blocks of sandstones, blackened with age, and fastened with iron braces, still make a magnificent ruin; other Roman structures are the Basilica, built entirely of brick by Emperor Constantine, which served for the administration of justice, and as a commercial exchange, the Roman palace, with high towers and steep spiral staircase and subterranean passage and the Roman bath, an imposing structure of the fourth century, and the provincial museum, a handsome modern building containing many highly interesting Roman antiquities. There is also a Roman cemetery south of the city. The Porta Nigra was built by Caesar in 56 B. C.

"With Constantine came Christianity, and from 320 for nearly fifteen centuries (until 1786) Trier was the residence of the bishops, archbishops, and electors. The cathedral was begun by Emperor Valentinian about 375, was destroyed by the French, restored in 1550, devastated by the Romans, rebuilt about 1025, added to in 1170, and in the thirteenth and seventeenth centuries it contained a splendid monument of Elector Richard III, who so successfully opposed Protestantism, and in the treasury are several secret relics, the head of the apostle Matthew, the cross and above all the seamless coat of Christ.

"The Liebfrauen Kirche, built after 1200, in the form of a circle, is one of the most interesting Gothic churches in Germany. The town library and the gymnasium contain some real and beautifully illuminated manuscript of the early centuries. In St. Paulin, north of the city, is a spot marked by a cross where early Christians were martyred by the Romans and thrown to the lions, and in the crypt of the nearby churches are the tombs.

"Treves is the modern city of nearly 50,000 inhabitants and is the center of the wine trade for the Moselle Valley. The French blew up the bridge in 1689 and restored it thirty years later. They captured the town in 1794, but in 1815 it was ceded to Prussia, and now at the end of 1918 troops of the American army of occupation are marching down its dim old streets, and so its history grows.

Tendency to Constipation?

USE THIS LAXATIVE!

Dietitians advise a "careful diet," but that is troublesome to most people; physical culturists advise "certain exercises," which is good if one has both the time and the inclination. Doctors advise diet and exercise and medicine. The question is, shall it be a cathartic or purgative medicine? Or a mild, gentle laxative?

Thousands have decided the question to their own satisfaction by using a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A small dose gives a free, easy movement of the bowels. It is the best substitute for nature herself. In fact, since the ingredients are wholly from the vegetable kingdom it may truthfully be said it is a natural laxative.

Its positive but gentle action on the bowels makes it an ideal remedy for constipation. The dose is small, and it may be taken with perfect safety until the bowels are regulated and act again of their own accord.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PROMINENT DOCTORS EXCITED AND AMAZED

They Are Worked Up Over The Action of Phosphated Iron Making The Weak Strong

Victims of weak nerves and run down systems due to lack of pure blood will be glad to know that there is, according to the best physicians a reliable remedy for them.

Many who were steadily going down hill to permanent illness and nervous breakdown have regained perfect health by taking Phosphated Iron, the new blood and nerve food.

One elderly woman said, "I was all in, looked and felt like the last run of shad, was clear discouraged without ambition or appetite. Now look at me! I have the good health and bubbling spirits of a girl of eighteen, eat and sleep well! It made a new man of my husband too. And though we are well along in years we both face the future with confidence, knowing that as long as our blood is charged with good health-giving Iron and Phosphates we are safe."

Again a bookkeeper who used it says: "If ever a man had a case of nerves it was me. I could not sleep at night, the least sound made me jump, appetite gone, everything was up hill work and I felt myself slipping every day. My doctor said: 'Try Phosphated Iron, it is the exact remedy you require.' The first week I improved; my nerves steadied down so that I slept, my appetite and digestion improved, and it seemed to me that I could almost feel the 'Phosphated Iron' feeding my weak watery blood and tired nerves. I now weigh 25 lbs. more than I ever did, and much stronger."

A prominent physician to whom the above statements were submitted said: "Yes, Phosphated Iron is easily the most wonderful iron prescription yet discovered. Its ingredients are well known to all blood and nerve specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice and cured many patients where other physicians had failed. I can highly recommend it for all cases of weak nerves and poor blood, as well as general loss of tone, with absence of appetite. It seldom fails me in this class of cases."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

Danger Ahead! Look Out!!

Colds and gripe frequently will leave you with weak kidneys, and aching back. The kidneys get overworked fighting off a cold or a contagious disease. When they slow up, and don't perform their duties, look out, there is trouble brewing.

Kidney and bladder troubles are dangerous, and should not be neglected; if you are compelled to arise from your slumber once or twice during the night, it proves that your kidneys are affected and bladder irritated, and if you will take from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after meals, you will correct the alkalinity of your secretions, thus giving you undisturbed sleep and peaceful rest, preparing you for your next day's duties.

If you feel dull, irritable and nervous, have headaches, sore or enlarged joints, irregular kidney action, you should give the kidneys quick relief by taking SEVEN BARKS, which will not only relieve the kidney trouble, but keep your stomach in good condition and your liver active.

Don't neglect your kidney trouble with first symptoms. You will be sorry if you do—it's too serious a matter. Get SEVEN BARKS of your druggist. Price, 50 cents.—Adv.
